LEARN TOGETHER

Make English work for you

You can communicate at A1

You can use familiar words and short sentences. You can ask someone to speak slowly. You can point, repeat and use a model. Mistakes help you learn.

Choose how much help you need

Support	Core	Challenge
Use a word bank, picture or sentence frame. Rehearse first.	Try the task on your own. Check with a partner.	Add a detail or ask another simple question. Stay with familiar language.

Four skills, every unit

READ: look for names, times, places and familiar words.
LISTEN: read the questions, listen once for the topic and again for details.
SPEAK: take turns, ask a question and help your partner.
WRITE: collect words, build sentences, write and edit.

Listening in this booklet

Your teacher reads the scripts. Audio-production placeholders U01–U08 identify future recordings; they are not links or QR codes. No audio recordings are supplied.

CHELTENHAM PRIVATE SCHOOL

Muscat, Sultanate of Oman

My World, My English

GRADE 8 / CEFR A1 / BRITISH ENGLISH

Teacher Guide

Discover · Learn · Practise · Communicate · Create · Reflect

Teacher-read listening scripts provided. No audio recordings supplied.

Independent classroom resource · School details are not represented as official policy.

TEACHER ORIENTATION

A classroom-ready learning route

Purpose and scope

An independently prepared Grade 8 resource for approximately 13–14-year-old CEFR A1 learners in Muscat. The school name identifies the intended audience; no school policies, facilities or official endorsement are asserted. Named pupils, personal profiles, school examples and practice maps are fictional. Familiar place names are used as cultural context, not as verified travel advice.

CEFR basis

Tasks operationalise CEFR A1 abilities: recognise familiar words in slow, clear speech; understand very short simple texts; interact with help and repetition; use simple phrases about familiar people and places; write simple personal information and short sentences. These are classroom adaptations of the Council of Europe CEFR Companion Volume (2020), not an official CEFR examination or certification.
Reference: Council of Europe, Common European Framework of Reference for Languages: Learning, Teaching, Assessment – Companion Volume (2020), www.coe.int/lang-cefr.

Suggested pacing

Allow around five 45–55-minute lessons per unit, adjusting for literacy and prior learning. This is a flexible starting point, not a completion requirement. Preview vocabulary and model each exchange. Give time for thinking, pair rehearsal and revision. All units repeat Discover → Learn → Practise → Communicate → Create → Reflect.

What to prepare

Print student pages separately from answers. Provide pencils, plain project paper and coloured pens if available. Learners may finish projects in the booklet or on a larger sheet. Digital tasks have paper alternatives. No accounts, personal photographs, paid resources or device access are required.

Audio production status

All eight teacher-read scripts are complete. U01–U08 are production identifiers only. No recordings, QR codes or audio links are supplied. If you record later, read slowly, pause naturally, obtain relevant permissions and test the recording against the questions before distributing it.

TEACHER ASSESSMENT

Assess meaning and growth

Use the five-criterion rubric in every project and in short speaking/writing conferences. Circle 0, 1 or 2 for each criterion. Total: /10. Use scores to guide feedback; they are not CEFR cut scores.

Shared assessment anchors

Criterion	0 · Not yet shown	1 · With help	2 · Independently
Communication	Meaning is not yet clear, even after support.	Main message is clear with prompts or clarification.	Main message is clear; responds to the task.
Vocabulary	Too few relevant words to convey the message.	Uses relevant taught words with a bank or prompts.	Selects enough familiar words for the message.
Grammar	Forms do not yet convey the intended meaning.	Uses target frames with support; some errors.	Uses simple target forms effectively; minor errors may remain.
Task completion	Main task elements are missing.	Completes some elements or needs reminders.	Completes the unit’s stated success criteria.
Confidence / participation	Has not yet attempted the exchange; offer another route.	Attempts with rehearsal, notes or encouragement.	Willingly attempts and uses repair/help strategies.

Make assessment fair

Confidence means participation and use of support. Do not reward extroversion, speed, a particular accent or lack of anxiety. Visual notes and ordinary access adjustments do not automatically lower scores. “With help” means substantial language prompting, not simply choosing a paper format or using required access support.

What to record

Record the review’s closed-item results separately from writing and speaking. Ask for a fresh example after correction. Note one strength and one achievable next step. Keep an initial and revised project sample to show progress. Accept equivalent correct answers; keys label open responses and models.

TEACHER PLANNING

Teach, support and connect

The portfolio thread

Unit	Recycled language / next step
1 → 2	Profile names and ages become a routine timetable.
2 → 3	Routines give a context for describing someone important.
3 → 4	Describe people, then plan an imagined school for them.
4 → 5	Use there is/are and routines to plan a varied menu.
5 → 6	Use food preferences in a Muscat café or visitor guide.
6 → 7	Use city places for hobby locations and arrangements.
7 → 8	Use interests and abilities to choose a simple future plan.

Support without lowering the goal

Pre-teach with pictures and gestures. Allow brief home-language planning, partner rehearsal, large print or extra thinking time. Read instructions aloud. Use the provided word banks and frames, then gradually cover them. Never ask learners to disclose private family information, contact details, health information or food restrictions.

Extend within A1

Ask learners to add one familiar detail, compare two choices with and/but, ask a follow-up question or repeat a role play with a new partner. Avoid extending into unfamiliar tense systems or long abstract explanations.

Use the keys responsibly

A closed question has a definite answer; an open response has many valid answers. Models demonstrate the expected shape, not a text to memorise. Read-aloud scripts stay teacher-only during listening. For pair information gaps, learners cover the other card; give separate copies if preferred.

Front and back matter: suggested responses

S1, S3, T1 and F1–F5 are personal/open. S2 should include a polite request, accurate spelling of the chosen word and thanks. Classroom time equivalents: 7:00 seven o’clock; 7:15 quarter past seven; 7:30 half past seven; 7:45 quarter to eight. For F2, look for three portfolio pages, a brief supported talk, one asked question and one response. Use the shared rubric and give a next step.

UNIT 01 / TEACHER ONLY

Unit 1 · Aims and listening

Learning objectives

I can give my name, age and country using am, is and are.
I can ask and answer simple questions about people.
I can find names, ages and countries in short profiles and introductions.
I can use numbers 11–20 and polite classroom requests.
I can write and present a short profile using pronouns and possessive adjectives.

Suggested sequence: vocabulary and profile facts; be and possessives; reading; teacher-read listening and information gap; writing and requests; profile project and review. Use short lessons with retrieval practice. Formative evidence: observe L3 questions, check G2 repairs and collect the Q4 writing sample.

U01 · Complete listening script

Sara: Hello. Welcome to our English club. My name is Sara. What is your name?
Adam: Hello, Sara. My name is Adam.
Sara: Please spell your name.

Sara: Thank you. I am Omani. I am thirteen. Our teacher is Ms Rose. She is British. This is your club card, Adam.
Adam: Thank you, Sara. My name and age are on the card. We are a team!

Delivery: explain that students listen for information, not every word. Read twice, slowly and naturally, with a pause at each turn. Give 30 seconds to compare after each reading. No recording is supplied.
L1: A, at an English club. L2: 1 Adam; 2 fourteen / 14; 3 India; 4 Indian; 5 Sara.

UNIT 01 / TEACHER ONLY

Unit 1 · Vocabulary and grammar keys

V1: 1 B; 2 C; 3 A.
V2: People: teacher, student. Polite words: please, thank you.
V3: name beside the name line; age beside the age line; country beside the country line. Learners choose invented details; accept a matching age in words or digits.
V4: 1 thirteen; 2 student; 3 repeat; 4 spell.

G1: 1 am; 2 are; 3 Her; 4 are.
G2: 1 He is thirteen. 2 They are not teachers. / They aren’t teachers.
G3: 1 His name is Ali. 2 Are you Omani? The personal sentence is open; for example, “I am fourteen.”

> Coaching
>
> Use pronoun cards: I → am; he/she/it → is; you/we/they → are. Keep nationality adjectives capitalised. Contrast “She is Noor” with “Her name is Noor”. Possessive its is presented for reference, not tested. Model contractions without demanding them.

P1: stress TEEN in all four numbers. Digits: 1 13; 2 14; 3 15; 4 16. Pronunciation respellings are approximate and reflect a broadly British model. Accept intelligible regional accents.
C1: open; check that the name written matches the partner’s chosen spelling.
C2: open; verify the selected digit matches the spoken number and the be form is correct.
Opener and J1–J4: personal or invented answers; no external personal data are needed.

UNIT 01 / TEACHER ONLY

Unit 1 · Reading, speaking and review keys

R1: a name and an age.
R2: 1 thirteen / 13; 2 the UK; 3 Ms Rose.
R3: 1 F; Ben is fourteen. 2 T. 3 we. 4 they.
R4: team. The team-member response is open; accept simple ideas such as “Listen” or “Help my friend.”

L3 completed information: Student X is Naila, fourteen, from Oman. Student Y is Tom, thirteen, from the UK. Partner A needs X’s country and Y’s name. Partner B needs X’s age and Y’s country. Learners must cover the other column. Accept “What is Naila’s country?” as a supported question.
L4: open; the questions and answers must match the invented information.

Q1: 1 thirteen; 2 Omani; 3 repeat.
Q2: 1 am; 2 are; 3 Her; 4 is.
Q3: 1 thirteen / 13; 2 No, he isn’t. / No; 3 Ms Green.
Q4 sample: “My name is Sami. I am fourteen. I am Omani.”
Q5: open performance: one introduction, one question and answer, and one polite classroom request.
Q6 and self-assessment: personal reflection, not a scored closed test.

Feedback decision

If Q2 forms are not secure, rehearse three contrast pairs before moving on. If facts in Q3 are misunderstood, model finding the name first and following the pronoun. Do not lower the task to copying only; allow an oral answer before writing.

UNIT 01 / TEACHER ONLY

Unit 1 · Writing and project assessment

W1: open planning; details should agree across the page.
W2 model: “My name is Naila. I am fourteen. I am from Oman. I am Omani. This is my friend Tom. He is thirteen.”
W3 independent model: “Hello! My name is Hadi. I am thirteen. I am from Muscat, in Oman. I am Omani. This is my friend Sara. She is fourteen. We are students.”

Assess a message before surface errors: can a partner identify the four facts? Check subject + be, sensible possessive adjective use, capitals and full stops. W3 target: 25–35 words; do not penalise a minor word-count difference when the message is complete.

Project rubric application: Communication—facts can be understood and a question answered; Vocabulary—appropriate country/nationality and age words; Grammar—am/is/are and my/his/her support the message; Completion—four facts, friend sentence, symbol and short introduction; Confidence—willingness to try and use repair or support. Award 0 not yet shown, 1 with help, 2 independently for each. Confidence does not mean accent, speed or personality.

Support: preselect two countries, provide a name card and colour-code I/am and he/is. Permit oral rehearsal before writing. Core: independent profile, then one question. Extension: ask the learner to introduce the partner with two familiar sentences. Do not require more advanced grammar.
Speaking evidence: note whether the student supplies a comprehensible name and age, asks one relevant question, listens for the answer and uses “Please repeat” if needed.

UNIT 02 / TEACHER ONLY

Unit 2 · Aims and listening

Learning objectives

I can name daily activities and say simple times and days.
I can use the Present Simple to say what I and another person do or do not do.
I can find routine details in a short text and a spoken description.
I can exchange missing timetable information with a partner.
I can write and present a daily routine timetable with short sentences.

Suggested sequence: retrieve Unit 1 profile facts; mime routine verbs and tell times; contrast I/he forms; read Mariam’s message; listen and complete the information gap; draft writing; make and assess the timetable. Formative evidence: G2 correction, L3 missing times and Q4 positive/negative contrast.

U02 · Complete listening script

Hello! My name is Sami. I am fourteen. This is my Sunday. I get up at six o’clock in the morning. I have breakfast at half past six. I go to school at seven. After school, I have lunch at home. I do homework at four o’clock in the afternoon. My sister helps at home. She reads in the evening. I don’t play football on Sunday. I read, too. We have dinner at seven o’clock in the evening. I go to bed at nine o’clock. My timetable is on my desk. It helps me every day.

Delivery: read twice, slowly and naturally; pause after each time. Allow 30 seconds to compare answers after each reading. Use the same wording both times. No recording supplied.
L1: A Sunday. L2: 1 six / 6:00 in the morning; 2 half past six / 6:30 in the morning; 3 do homework / homework; 4 seven / 7:00 in the evening; 5 nine / 9:00 in the evening.

UNIT 02 / TEACHER ONLY

Unit 2 · Vocabulary and grammar keys

V1: 1 B; 2 C; 3 A.
V2: Parts of a day: morning, evening. Days: Sunday, Friday.
V3: Clock 1 B; Clock 2 C; Clock 3 A. Accept “seven o’clock”, “half past three” and “quarter past nine” if learners write words.
V4: 1 get; 2 have; 3 read; 4 bed.

G1: 1 read; 2 has; 3 don’t; 4 doesn’t.
G2: 1 He doesn’t read. 2 She doesn’t go to school on Friday.
G3: 1 I do homework at four. / At four, I do homework. 2 He has breakfast at seven. / At seven, he has breakfast. Personal negative: open; example “I don’t play football on Sunday.”

Coaching

Use two colours for “She plays” and “She doesn’t play”. The main verb loses the -s after doesn’t. Practise have/has separately. Avoid treating the imaginary routine as an official school timetable. Question frames in this unit are supported chunks; full Present Simple question construction is developed in Unit 7.

P1: /s/: gets, helps. /z/: reads, plays. Sentence completions: “He helps at home. She reads every day.” Other sensible forms may be accepted if the learner has changed the cue naturally, but these are the intended vocabulary choices.
C1: five / 5:00 is the shared time.
C2: open; partners verify each other’s routine facts. Opener and J1–J4: open personalised work.

UNIT 02 / TEACHER ONLY

Unit 2 · Reading, speaking and review keys

R1: have breakfast and do homework.
R2: 1 6:00; 2 6:30; 3 4:00 in the afternoon / 16:00.
R3: 1 F; she doesn’t play football on Sunday. 2 T. 3 Ali.
R4: do homework. Personal comparisons are open: “I get up at six, too.” / “I play football on Sunday.”

L3 completed timetable: get up 6:00; have breakfast 6:30; do homework 4:00 in the afternoon; go to bed 9:00 in the evening. A needs breakfast and bedtime. B needs getting-up and homework times. Cover the partner column.
L4: open; accept a time in words or digits during planning, but ask learners to say it. A partner repeats using you + basic verb.

Q1: 1 homework; 2 breakfast; 3 bed.
Q2: 1 gets; 2 don’t; 3 play.
Q3: 1 half past six / 6:30 in the morning; 2 No, she doesn’t. / No.
Q4 model: “I get up at six. I have breakfast at half past six. I don’t play football on Monday.”
Q5: open; check two routine statements and a relevant time question/response.
Q6 and self-assessment: personal reflection.

Feedback decision

If time words are insecure, use the three visual clocks again and let learners move paper hands. If subject–verb agreement is insecure, contrast I read / she reads orally before returning to written sentences. Keep the message meaningful: always connect a time to an activity.

UNIT 02 / TEACHER ONLY

Unit 2 · Writing and project assessment

W1: open plan; six details should be consistent.
W2 guided model: “On Monday, I get up at six. I have breakfast at half past six. In the evening, I read. I don’t play football.”
W3 independent model: “On Tuesday, I get up at half past six. I have breakfast at seven. After school, I do homework at four. I help at home in the evening. I don’t play football on Tuesday. I go to bed at nine.”

Writing target: 35–50 words. Look for four activities, two times, one negative and a sensible sequence. Accept invented routines and any accurate alternative routine verbs. Do not infer that a student’s family follows one pattern.

Project rubric application: Communication—three entries are understandable and the student answers one time question; Vocabulary—daily activity and time words fit the timetable; Grammar—positive form and don’t/doesn’t + basic verb convey the intended message; Completion—day, six ordered entries, six times, three pictures and two sentences; Confidence—willingness to rehearse, ask for repetition and use support. Score each 0 not yet shown, 1 with help, 2 independently. Confidence is not accent, speed or personality.

Support: provide moveable routine cards and three clock models; prefill the day and first entry. Allow rehearsal before writing. Core: complete the timetable independently. Extension: keep A1 language and add two sentences about a sibling or invented friend using he/she.
Speaking evidence: note activity clarity, understandable time, question relevance, attention to the partner and a repair strategy. Avoid grading a quiet learner lower for being quiet.

Unit 3: aims and listening

Learning objectives

I can name family members and people I know.
I can describe a person with is, have got and has got.
I can find key facts in a short written or spoken description.
I can ask and answer simple questions about people.
I can write and present a short description of someone important.

Suggested sequence

Use 4–5 short lessons: discover words; model and practise descriptions; read and listen; write and communicate; present and review. Check G1 before independent writing. Let learners invent people; never require private family details.

Full listening script U03

Adam: Hello, Salma. Who is the new student?
Salma: His name is Yusuf. He is fourteen.
Adam: Is he from Muscat?
Salma: Yes, he lives in Muscat with his family. His cousin is in my class.
Adam: Has he got long hair?
Salma: No. He has got short black hair. He has got glasses, too.
Adam: Is he kind?
Salma: Yes, he is very kind. He helps me with my books. We read together after school.
Adam: That is nice. I want to say hello.
Salma: Come with me. We can meet him now.

Delivery and answers

Read slowly twice, pausing between turns. Learners read L1–L2 first; allow a pause between readings. No recording is supplied. L1: a, a new student. L2: Yusuf; 14/fourteen; Muscat; short black hair; yes; kind. Accept short, black or short black for the hair entry; ask learners to add the second detail after checking.

Unit 3: vocabulary and grammar keys

Vocabulary practice

V1: 1 c; 2 a; 3 d; 4 b. V2: family — brother, cousin; description — tall, quiet. V3: hair at the top of the head; eyes on the face; glasses over the eyes. V4: 1 sister; 2 hair; 3 glasses; 4 funny. Singular is and plural are help learners identify the two appearance words.

Grammar practice

G1: 1 have; 2 has; 3 have. G2: 1 He has got short hair. 2 She is kind. G3: 1 Ali's brother is tall. 2 We have got brown eyes. The added sentence is open; example: My friend is quiet.

Pronunciation and communication

P1: short /ɪ/ — sit, ship; longer /iː/ — sheep, seat. P2 is oral practice: model FRIEND/KIND and SHORT/HAIR as the strong words, without demanding one fixed stress pattern in all contexts. C1–C2 are open performance tasks. Example C1: This is my friend, Salim. He is thirteen. He is kind. Hello, Salim. Example C2: Their name is Salim. They are kind.

> Common errors to notice
>
> Model He has got, not He have got. Contrast She is kind with She has got kind eyes. In a description, put an adjective before a noun: short hair. Practise the possessive apostrophe in Ali's brother. Treat personal descriptions sensitively; do not evaluate learners' bodies or family structures.

Quick formative check

Point to a person card. Ask two learners to complete She ___ got glasses and She ___ kind. If the forms are confused, return to the grammar table before G3. Accept she has not got / she hasn't got in appropriate open responses.

Unit 3: reading and review keys

Main reading

R1 is personal and open. R2: 1 fourteen/14; 2 Muscat; 3 Amal. R3: 1 F; 2 T; 3 T; 4 b; 5 a. R4: 1 helpful; 2 not fast. R4.3 is open: We play football / read / play a game are examples.

Listening-to-speaking gap

L3 completed facts: Mariam is 13; she has got short black hair; she has got glasses; she is kind. Card A asks for hair and personality; Card B asks for age and glasses. Check whether learners listen to obtain missing facts instead of showing cards. L4 is open; assess two relevant questions and understandable answers.

Unit review

Q1: 1 cousin; 2 eyes; 3 kind. Q2: 1 has; 2 are; 3 Sara's. Q3: 1 Faisal; 2 fourteen/14; 3 a word game. Q4 is open. Example: My friend is Hana. She is kind. She has got brown eyes. Example follow-up: Has she got glasses? Q5 is a personal reflection; accept any specific relevant practice goal.

> Simple interpretation
>
> Vocabulary Q1 = 3 checks, grammar Q2 = 3 checks, reading Q3 = 3 checks. Use results diagnostically, not as a CEFR certification. For Q4 look for a clear relationship/name, accurate is and has got, and one intelligible question. Re-teach the error pattern rather than only reporting a total.

Portfolio projects

J1–J5 are open. J2 suitable questions include How old is she? Has he got glasses? Is she kind? J5 may improve form, spelling or punctuation. An invented person is equally valid. Ask learners to identify their own improvement after peer feedback.

Unit 3: writing and assessment

W2 guided model

My friend is Noor. She is thirteen. She has got short hair and she is kind.

W3 independent model: 40 words

This is my cousin, Aisha. She is fourteen. She has got brown eyes and long hair. Aisha is funny and kind. We read after school and play games on Fridays. She helps me with new words. We are good friends.

Other open work

W1 is a personal planning bank, not a spelling test. J3 may use symbols instead of a portrait. Look for clear meaning and a respectful presentation. Read the writing model aloud before students plan. Support learners in choosing words rather than copying the whole model.

Speaking and project evidence

Use the five 0–2 rubric criteria. Communication: listener can identify the person and facts. Vocabulary: relationship, appearance and personality words fit. Grammar: is/has got and one possessive caption convey meaning. Completion: a portrait/symbol, 35–50 words and introduction are present. Confidence: learner attempts to share, asks for repetition or uses notes when needed; do not score accent, speed or personality.

Different routes

SUPPORT: rehearse three sentences orally and offer relationship/appearance/personality cards. CORE: use independent notes and the editing checklist. CHALLENGE: add two familiar sentences about another person and ask a second question. Stay with familiar present forms; do not require comparisons or past tenses.

Feedback to record

Name one success and one manageable next step: Your description is clear. Practise She has got. Retain the portrait beside the Unit 2 timetable and bring it to the Unit 4 design team.

Unit 4: aims and listening

Learning objectives

I can name school subjects, objects and places.
I can say what there is and where things are in a school.
I can find details in a short school description or conversation.
I can use can and cannot for abilities and simple classroom permissions.
I can design, describe and present an imagined school.

Suggested sequence

Use 4–5 short lessons: words and location; grammar and reading; listening and guided interaction; writing and design; presentation and review. These are imagined schools and permissions. Check actual school information separately; none is asserted here.

Full listening script U04

Guide: Welcome to our imagined school, Sea School.
Visitor: Thank you. How many classrooms are there?
Guide: There are eight classrooms. There is a library, too.
Visitor: Where is the library?
Guide: It is next to the hall. There is an art room next to the playground.
Visitor: Is there a science room?
Guide: Yes, there is. We like science here.
Visitor: Can students use computers in the library?
Guide: Yes, they can. They can read there, too.
Visitor: Can they eat in the library?
Guide: No, they cannot. That is one of our imagined rules. We help new students and keep the rooms clean.

Delivery and answers

Read twice slowly; pause between turns and readings. No recording is supplied. L1: a, an imagined school. L2: eight/8; hall; yes; use computers or read; eat. Accept either allowed library activity, then elicit the other during feedback.

Unit 4: vocabulary and grammar keys

Vocabulary practice

V1: 1 b; 2 c; 3 a; 4 d. V2: subjects — English, science; objects — desk, bag. V3: label the book on the desk, bag under the desk and ball next to the desk. Model: The book is on the desk. The bag is under the desk. The ball is next to the desk. V4: 1 art; 2 PE; 3 help; 4 rule.

Grammar practice

G1: 1 is; 2 are; 3 an. G2: 1 There is a desk. 2 I can read. G3: 1 I can swim. A. 2 You can read here. P, in this unit's library-permission context. Without context the same words can also report ability; use the dialogue to establish the intended meaning.

Pronunciation

P1: /s/ — books, desks; /z/ — bags; /ɪz/ — classes. Demonstrate the sound, not just the written s. P2: There are FOUR CLASSROOMS. Learners also practise There is ONE LIBRARY. Assess intelligibility of number and noun, not imitation of one accent.

> Common errors and quick checks
>
> Contrast singular is + a library with plural are + two libraries. Model can + base verb: can read. Teach a / an by sound; an art room begins with a vowel sound. Ask learners to place a book on or under a desk and describe it before independent writing. There isn't and There aren't are acceptable contractions.

C1–C2 open examples

C1: Excuse me. Where is the art room? It is next to the hall. Can I draw there? Yes, you can. C2: The library is next to the hall. You can read here. Check location and appropriateness of activity; there is no single required invented layout.

Unit 4: reading and review keys

Main reading

R1 is an open choice. R2: 1 the art room; 2 four/4; 3 art. R3: 1 F; 2 F; 3 b; 4 a. R4: 1 not dirty; 2 things that are allowed or not allowed. R4.3 is open: We help new students. / We are kind. Do not require a new modal form.

Information-gap answers

L3 completed plan: six classrooms; library next to the hall; one art room; playground present. Card A asks about the library's location and playground. Card B asks about classroom and art-room numbers. L4 is open: There is a bigger playground is grammatically possible, but do not require comparatives. A1 model: There is a garden. I like trees.

Review answers

Q1: 1 library; 2 maths; 3 bag. Q2: 1 are; 2 an; 3 read. Q3: 1 five/5; 2 the hall; 3 No, there is not / No, there isn't / No. Q4 is open. Example: There is a hall. There are three classrooms. We can read in the library. Example question: Is there a playground? Q5 is a personal reflection.

Diagnostic assessment

Q1 vocabulary = 3 checks; Q2 grammar = 3; Q3 reading = 3. Record patterns in errors and give a short next practice step. Q4 needs understandable meaning, singular/plural awareness, can + verb and one relevant question. This classroom check is not formal CEFR certification.

Projects and rehearsal

J1–J5 are open design tasks. Check that names, facilities and rules are clearly imagined. J2 can be recorded as library, art room or any place actually mentioned by the other team. J5 should improve one meaningful sentence connected to the labelled plan.

Unit 4: writing and project assessment

W2 guided model

There are four classrooms. There is a library. The library is next to the hall. We can read.

W3 independent model: 45 words

This is my imagined school. There are five classrooms. There is a library next to the hall. There is an art room, too. We can draw there. We can read in the library. One rule is: help new students. I like this place for learning.

Writing support

W1 is an open word bank. Accept plausible layouts and activities. Check that three places, one location, one can sentence and one kind rule appear. Do not require students to say these facilities or rules exist at their own school.

Five project criteria

Communication: an audience can follow the plan and description. Vocabulary: school places and activities are suitable. Grammar: there is / are, a / an and can + verb convey meaning. Completion: labelled plan, short description, two imagined rules and shared presentation. Confidence: each learner attempts to share, uses notes or asks for repetition. It does not mean accent, speed or an outgoing personality. Score 0 not yet shown, 1 with help, 2 independently for each.

Different routes

SUPPORT: give three labelled place cards, a small plan and sentence frames. Rehearse orally before writing. CORE: learners write and present from their own notes. CHALLENGE: add a familiar place and ask two simple questions of another team. Keep the same A1 grammar; do not require complex explanations.

Next connection

Keep the school plan after the Unit 3 portrait in My World. In Unit 5, students can plan food for a day in this imagined school. Praise one clear location or helpful rule before giving one specific correction.

UNIT 05 / TEACHER

Unit 5 • objectives and listening

Learning objectives

I can name everyday food, drinks and meals.
I can find food, drink and time details in a short text and conversation.
I can use some and any with familiar food words.
I can ask about food preferences and say what I like.
I can write and present a varied daily menu.

Suggested sequence: 5 lessons of about 45–55 minutes. 1: opener, vocabulary and practice. 2: grammar and reading. 3: listening and café speaking. 4: writing, project planning and rehearsal. 5: presentations and review. Adjust pace; use the review and project as formative evidence.

U05 • complete listening script

Teacher: This is a message about a lunch club at an imagined school.
Aisha: Hello, everyone. Our lunch club is on Tuesday. We meet at one o’clock in our classroom. Please bring your lunch and some water. Today I have rice and chicken. I like carrots, and I have some carrots too. My friend Sami has bread and eggs. He doesn’t like chicken. We both have apples for our snack. There isn’t any milk today. We eat, talk and help to tidy the room. You can bring different food. What do you like for lunch? Tell a friend. See you on Tuesday!

Read slowly twice, with a short pause between sentences. First time: gist. Second: details. Allow 30 seconds to compare notes. Do not display the script during listening.

Listening answers

L1: A, a lunch club. L2: 1 Tuesday; 2 one o’clock / 1:00 / 13:00; 3 chicken; 4 water; 5 apples. Accept clear phonetic spelling during listening; teach conventional spelling afterwards.

UNIT 05 / TEACHER

Unit 5 • vocabulary and grammar keys

Vocabulary

V1: 1 d; 2 a; 3 b; 4 c.
V2 Countable: apple, egg, carrot, banana. Uncountable: rice, milk, bread, water. Here these words name foods, not servings or containers.
V3: 1 apple; 2 rice; 3 milk; 4 eggs.
V4: 1 breakfast; 2 dinner; 3 snack; 4 yoghurt.

Grammar

G1: 1 some; 2 any; 3 any.
G2: 1 There are two apples. 2 She likes fish. 3 There isn’t any milk.
G3: 1 I love dates. 2 There isn’t any milk. Final personal sentence is open; check subject–verb agreement and a clear preference.

Other closed tasks

L3 completed cards: Ali—rice and water; Sara—bread and milk. Both partners must request their missing information. L4 is open; students need three food questions and one shared choice.
P1: 1 /b/; 2 /p/; 3 /b/; 4 /p/. P2 is oral practice with food-word stress; there is no written key.

Common-error coaching

“There is some rice”, not “There are rices”. Teach a rice grain only if needed; it is outside the core task. Model “She likes” and “I like”. Use any for the questions and negatives practised here; do not claim that some is impossible in all questions. Invitations such as “Would you like some water?” are valid but not required.

Activity alignment

V1–V4 support objective 1. G1–G3 support objective 3. L1–L2 support objective 2. L3–L4 support objectives 2 and 4. P1–P2 help students pronounce vocabulary for objective 4.

Unit 5 • reading and review keys

Reading

R1 open prediction: rice, fish, chicken, carrots, apple or dates are plausible; do not mark a prediction wrong.
R2: 1 Saturday; 2 one o’clock / 1:00 / 13:00; 3 chicken.
R3: 1 F—There isn’t any milk. 2 T.
R4: 1 everyone; 2 choose.
R5 open: students name two foods, listen and give a true shared or different preference. Example: “We both like apples.”

Review

Q1: 1 breakfast; 2 water; 3 rice.
Q2: 1 some; 2 any; 3 like.
Q3: 1 two o’clock / 2:00 / 14:00; 2 No, she doesn’t. / No.
Q4 open model: “For lunch, I have some rice and fish. I drink water.” Other meaningful two-sentence lunches with a drink and some are accepted.
Q5 open: each learner names a meal, asks a partner about a preference and records a personal reflection.

Open tasks

C1 and C2 are open role plays: listen for a polite order, a meaningful availability question and a kind response. Accept supported reading of the frame. W1–W3 and J1–J3 are open production; models follow. The studio word, peer feedback and “Next step” are personal.

Use the evidence

Review closed checks: 8 items (Q1 three, Q2 three, Q3 two). Record correct items out of 8, then note writing and speaking separately. For an item with an error, ask for a corrected sentence and a fresh example. A learner can communicate successfully while still needing help with form.

Activity alignment

R1–R5 and Q3 support objective 2. W1–W3 and J1–J3 support objective 5. C1–C2 and Q5 support objective 4. Q1 supports objective 1; Q2 and Q4 support objective 3.

UNIT 05 / TEACHER

Unit 5 • writing, projects and support

W2 • one guided model

For breakfast, I have an egg and bread. At lunch, there is some rice. I like apples, but I don’t like fish.

W3 • one independent model

For breakfast, I have bread and some yoghurt. I eat rice, fish and carrots for lunch at one o’clock. My snack is a banana. I like bananas. For dinner, I have eggs and bread. I drink water with my meals.

W1 is a personal word/phrase plan. For W3, accept 35–50 words with three meals, a preference and a drink. Count contractions as one word. Reward clear meaning before minor spelling. Soup in the student model means a warm liquid food; model it with a simple bowl gesture if unfamiliar.

Project and speaking assessment

Use the project rubric, 0–2 per criterion, as feedback rather than a CEFR certification. Communication: listener can follow the menu. Vocabulary: food, drink and meal words fit. Grammar: some and preference structures carry meaning. Completion: three meals, snack, variety and a drink appear. Confidence: learner attempts the exchange and uses help when needed; do not score accent, speed or personality.

Support: rehearse with labelled cards; write a food bank; allow a partner or home-language planning before English production. Core: create and explain the menu with one question. Extension: compare two menus using and/but and familiar likes. Do not require calories, dieting, weight talk or costly ingredients. Allow all dietary needs and invented examples.

Feedback

J2 speaking evidence: 30–45 seconds or 4 clear short sentences plus one question answered. J3 should identify a clear part and a specific improvement. Keep early and improved versions in the portfolio.

UNIT 06 / TEACHER

Unit 6 • objectives and listening

Learning objectives

I can name familiar places and ways to travel.
I can find place and travel details in a short guide and conversation.
I can ask where a place is and describe its position.
I can give and follow short directions on a practice map.
I can write and present a short visitor guide to Muscat.

Suggested sequence: five lessons of 45–55 minutes. 1: vocabulary and map. 2: questions, positions and reading. 3: listening and spoken routes. 4: writing, fact checking and project map. 5: rehearsals, presentations and review. Use fingers or pencils for all routes; actual outings are not part of this task.

U06 • complete listening script

Teacher: This conversation is about our invented practice map.
Visitor: Excuse me. Where is the park?
Guide: It is opposite the bus stop.
Visitor: Thank you. Is there a library?
Guide: Yes. The library is next to the park.
Visitor: Where is the museum?
Guide: It is opposite the library. Look at the map.
Visitor: I can see it now. There is a café next to the park too.
Guide: Yes, there is.
Visitor: I like this place. I have my bag and some water. My friend is at the bus stop. After my visit, I go to the city centre by taxi.
Guide: Have a good day!
Visitor: Thank you for your help!

Read twice slowly with short pauses. Learners first choose the place, then complete details. Keep the script out of student view. “City centre” means the main central part of a city; the location here is fictional.

Listening answers

L1: A, the park. L2: 1 bus stop; 2 next; 3 library; 4 taxi. Accept recognisable phonetic spellings for comprehension, then model spelling.

Unit 6 • vocabulary and grammar keys

Vocabulary

V1: 1 c; 2 d; 3 b; 4 a.
V2 Places: beach, park, museum. Transport: taxi, bus, car.
V3: 1 museum; 2 bus stop. This is a copy/label task; point out the position word opposite.
V4: 1 country; 2 city; 3 fort; 4 walk.

Grammar

G1: 1 opposite; 2 next to; 3 opposite.
G2: 1 Where is the park? 2 It is next to the library.
G3: 1 Turn left. 2 The library is opposite the museum. Additional map sentence is open; for example, “The café is next to the park.”

Other task answers

L3 completed cards: Red—park, nine o’clock; Blue—bus stop, ten o’clock. Both partners ask for missing information. L4 is an invented meeting plan with a clear place and time.
P1: 1 MUS; 2 MAR; 3 SE. P2 is oral meaning practice; observe the pencil movement.
C1 expected route: north/up to the first crossing, then east/right to the park; mark the finish. Students invent the second route. C2 is a supported spoken repair exchange.

Common-error coaching

Model “Where is the museum?” rather than statement order. Keep next to as one chunk. Opposite does not need to in the model used here. Imperatives use the base verb without a subject: “Go”, not “Goes”. Distinguish real geography from invented-map relationships. The practice map does not represent Muscat streets.

Activity alignment

V1–V4 support objective 1. G1–G3 support objective 3. P1 supports pronunciation for objectives 3 and 5; P2 and C1 support objective 4. L1–L2 support objective 2; L3–L4 and C2 support objective 3.

UNIT 06 / TEACHER

Unit 6 • reading and review keys

Reading

R1 open place knowledge; no is the sensible answer about walking to every city. Do not assess geographical experience.
R2: 1 dates; 2 by car; 3 Nizwa.
R3: 1 T; 2 F—Nizwa is another city in Oman. / Nizwa is not in Muscat.
R4: 1 guide; 2 souq.
R5 open choice and justification with a reading fact. Example: “I want to see Nizwa. There is a fort.”

Review

Q1: 1 library; 2 taxi; 3 left.
Q2: 1 is; 2 next to; 3 Go.
Q3: 1 the library; 2 nine o’clock / 9:00.
Q4 open model: “The library is opposite the museum. Turn left.” Accept any accurate position from the note and a correct imperative; the direction need not describe a full route.
Q5 open: a where question, an appropriate answer/point, and two pencil directions.

Other answers

W1 is personal planning using checked reading facts. W2: Oman; souq / market; dates. W3 is independent writing with reading facts. J1–J3 are open project work; assess the correspondence between each learner’s own map and directions. Studio snack ideas and portfolio questions are open. Do not award a wrong factual claim for creativity.

Review and feedback

Closed review has 8 items: Q1 three, Q2 three, Q3 two. Record these separately from writing and speaking. For spatial confusion, rotate a pencil but keep the page’s north arrow fixed. Support left/right with a hand gesture. Do not penalise a learner for not having visited the places.

Activity alignment

R1–R5 and Q3 support objective 2. W1–W3 support objective 5. J1–J3 integrate objectives 3–5. Q1 checks objective 1; Q2 and Q4 check objective 3; Q5 checks objectives 3–4.

UNIT 06 / TEACHER

Unit 6 • models, assessment and support

W2 • guided model

Muscat is a city in Oman. In Muttrah, there is a souq. You can buy dates there.

W3 • independent model

Welcome to Muscat in Oman! You can see the sea here. In Muttrah, there is a souq. It is a market. I like the shops. You can buy dates there. You can go to Muttrah by car with an adult.

Accept a 35–50-word guide naming Oman, a place, something to see/buy, and transport. Other checked facts are allowed; internet access is not required. Make no claims about opening times or transport services. The model gives a possible transport choice, not a route or service guarantee.

Project rubric and speaking evidence

Use 0–2 per project criterion as feedback. Communication: visitor can follow the explanation. Vocabulary: place and transport words fit. Grammar: questions, position phrases and imperatives carry meaning. Completion: two checked facts, transport, preference, four map labels, two positions and three directions. Confidence: learner attempts the exchange and uses support appropriately, never judged by accent, speed or personality.

For speaking, look for a clear welcome, two short facts and a relevant answer to one visitor question. During J2, the listener must reach the intended place on the learner’s map; this is evidence of meaningful communication. The map is a simulation, not navigation advice.

Differentiation

Support: use four large place cards, gesture left/right and rehearse one question at a time. Core: give directions from notes and test them with a partner. Extension: add a second route and compare long/short, or ask two familiar visitor questions. Allow invented family names and plans; no private addresses are needed.

Unit 7: flow, outcomes and listening

Learning objectives

I can name hobbies and say how often I do them.
I can find hobby details in a short text and a slow conversation.
I can ask and answer questions about hobbies and abilities.
I can write a short paragraph about my free time.
I can give a short hobby presentation with pictures.

Suggested teaching sequence

Use 5-6 lessons of 40-50 minutes: discover vocabulary; model questions and read; listen and exchange information; draft and communicate; make and rehearse; present and review. Adjust to the class. Retrieve Unit 2 routines and Unit 6 places. During pair work, check one accurate question and one relevant answer per learner.

U07: complete teacher-read script

Dana: Hello, Nasser. What do you do after school?
Nasser: I usually play football. I play with my friends on Thursday. Do you play football?
Dana: No, I don't. I sometimes watch football, but I can't play. I like drawing.
Nasser: Can you draw people?
Dana: Yes, I can. I can draw pictures of boats, too.
Nasser: Great! I have some photos of boats in Muscat. Let's make a hobby picture together.
Dana: Good idea. Can we meet on Saturday?
Nasser: Yes. Let's meet at four o'clock in the park.
Dana: At four. Great! I can bring my pencils.

Delivery and answers

Read once for L1, then again for L2. Speak slowly and clearly; pause after each turn. Give 30 seconds between readings. Do not display the script. L1: b, choose a hobby activity. L2: 1 football; 2 Thursday; 3 draw; 4 four / 4. Accept capitalisation and number forms that preserve meaning. No audio file is supplied.

Unit 7: vocabulary and grammar keys

V1-V4

V1: 1 c; 2 d; 3 b; 4 a.
V2: Move your body: swim, cycle, play football. Use a screen: watch videos, use a computer, read comics online. The phrase 'read comics online' specifies screen use.
V3: A read; B swim; C play football; D use a computer. Accept 'read comics' for A.
V4: 1 always; 2 usually; 3 sometimes; 4 never. Explain that the weekly numbers illustrate these words; they are not fixed definitions for all contexts.

G1-G3

G1: 1 Does; 2 swim; 3 usually.
G2: 1 Does she play chess? 2 He can draw.
G3: 1 Do you watch videos? 2 I always drink water. Personal sentence is open; sample: 'I sometimes draw after school.' Accept other accurate, relevant sentences.

L3-L4 information gap

A asks B and records: Huda plays chess on Saturday; she can swim and can't draw. B asks A and records: Salim plays football on Friday; he can draw and can't swim. Pupils speak as their role-card person. Ensure they cover the other card. L4 personal hobby responses vary; sample: 'I read comics on Friday.'

P1-P2 pronunciation

For P1, read exactly: 1 'I can swim.' 2 'She can't draw.' Read twice with a natural clear distinction. Answers: 1 can; 2 can't. Then pairs repeat the exact sentences before making their own. P2 is open oral practice: accept intelligible questions with stress on the hobby word. Do not require one accent.

> Common errors and quick repairs
>
> Prompt 'Does she play?' when learners say 'Does she plays?' Use a hand gesture to remove -s after does. After can, use the base verb. Model 'I usually draw', then contrast 'I am usually ready'. Never already has negative meaning: 'I never swim', not 'I don't never swim'.

UNIT 07 / TEACHER ONLY

Unit 7: reading, communication and review keys

R1-R4

R1 is open; examples: play chess, take photos, play football.
R2: 1 Muscat; 2 on Friday; 3 her sister.
R3: 1 F; 2 T; 3 b; 4 a.
R4: photo book. Personal response is open; sample: 'We can make a photo book together.' Accept other suitable shared projects.

C1-C2 real-life communication

These are open tasks. C1 example: 'Let's draw in the park on Saturday.' 'What time?' 'At four.' 'Great!' Alternatively, 'Sorry, I can't. At five?' Check both pupils ask or respond and reach a clear agreement. C2 sample report: 'Maha and Ali like drawing.' Do not require pupils to disclose real private details. First names or invented names suffice.

Q1-Q3 closed review answers

Q1: 1 always; 2 never; 3 photos.
Q2: 1 Do; 2 swim; 3 plays.
Q3: 1 on Friday; 2 his cousin; 3 in the park. Accept a short phrase or complete accurate sentence. 'She' for Q3.2 is acceptable if its reference to the cousin is clear.

Q4-Q5 and reflection

Q4 sample: 'I like chess. I sometimes play with my brother. I can draw.' Assess relevance, one clear can statement and one frequency expression. Q5: each pupil should ask a hobby question and an ability question and answer both. Example: 'Do you cycle?' 'Yes, I do.' 'Can you swim?' 'No, I can't.' Reflection is personal; record one next step rather than marking the self-rating right or wrong.

Formative decision

If a learner finds details but cannot ask a question, practise the question frame before the project. If the meaning is clear despite a small spelling error, acknowledge communication and teach the spelling separately. Review evidence guides teaching; it is not a formal CEFR certification.

Unit 7: writing, project and differentiation

W2: possible guided response

My favourite hobby is taking photos. I usually take photos at the beach. I can use a camera. I sometimes take photos with my sister.

W3: possible independent response

My favourite hobby is chess. I usually play at home after dinner. I can play with my cousin. We sometimes play on Friday, too. My cousin is good at chess. I like our games. They are fun.

W1-W3 and J1-J4

W1 notes and W2 choices are open. W3 should develop notes into a connected 35-50-word paragraph; the model above has 37 words. Provide feedback on one strength and one next step. J1-J4 plans, sketches, rehearsal comments and goals are open. Accept paper cards: technology is optional. A presentation should contain original or safely chosen pictures and no private identifying details.

Apply the five-criterion rubric (0, 1 or 2 each)

Communication: hobby, time and place are clear. Vocabulary: familiar hobby and frequency words fit. Grammar: can and habit sentences convey meaning. Completion: three illustrated cards and a short presentation are supplied. Confidence: learner attempts the talk and responds, using support when needed. Confidence means willingness/use of support, not accent, speed or personality. Score 0 when not yet shown, 1 with help, 2 independently. Minor errors need not prevent a 2 when the criterion is met. Note evidence, not just a total.

Support and extension

Support: offer hobby picture cards, rehearse two question frames, chunk the reading, allow a partner rehearsal and extra processing time. Core: complete the presentation and one audience question. Challenge: ask two familiar questions, count similar answers and report 'Three people like chess.' Keep language within A1. Do not add complex comparisons or internet publishing.

UNIT 08 / TEACHER ONLY

Unit 8: objectives and listening

Unit learning objectives

☐ I can name four seasons and describe simple weather.

☐ I can find key details in a short text and talk about future plans.

☐ I can listen for a day, a time and an activity in a conversation.

☐ I can ask and answer simple questions about weekend plans.

☐ I can write and present a short poster about my goals.

Suggested flow

Use about 5–6 flexible lessons: vocabulary and weather; going to and reading; listening and an information gap; writing and practical speaking; poster preparation; review and presentations. Recycle can, present simple, family, food and times. Assess meaning before accuracy. These classroom plans are fictional, not school events.

U08 — complete teacher-read script

Huda: Hi, Ali. What are you going to do on Friday?
Ali: I am going to study English at home. Are you going to study too?
Huda: Yes, I am. Can we study together?
Ali: Yes. We can use the table in the living room.
Huda: Good. What time are we going to start?
Ali: At three o'clock. My brother is going to help us with reading.
Huda: Great. I am going to bring my English book and a notebook.
Ali: I am going to make some tea. Do you like tea?
Huda: Yes, I do. Thank you. See you on Friday at three!

Delivery and answers

Give 30 seconds to read L1–L2. Read the script twice, slowly and naturally, with a short pause between turns; do not show it to students first. L1: a, a plan to study together. L2: 1 Friday; 2 three / 3; 3 living room; 4 tea. Accept spelling attempts that clearly identify the detail. Check day, time and activity orally. No recording is supplied.

Unit 8: vocabulary and grammar keys

Vocabulary practice

V1: 1 b; 2 d; 3 c; 4 a.
V2: Seasons: spring, winter, summer, autumn. Weather: windy, sunny, cloudy, rainy. Accept either order within each group.
V3: 1 sunny; 2 rainy; 3 cloudy; 4 windy.
V4: 1 cold; 2 hot; 3 plan; 4 weekend.
Say it together: open responses; any familiar activity with a season is acceptable. Do not insist on a weather stereotype for Oman or any other country.

Grammar in context

G1: 1 am; 2 is; 3 are; 4 are.
G2: 1 He is going to play. 2 I am going to read.
G3: 1 We are going to walk. 2 Are you going to read? Personalised plan: open; for example, I am going to cook on Saturday. Accept contracted forms where appropriate.

Coach common errors

For 'She going to read', point to is in the table. For 'going to reads', ask students to find the base verb read. For 'They is', point back to subject pronouns in Unit 1. Keep the full form going to for writing; do not require informal gonna. Model short, clear questions rather than adding tense terminology.

Sounds and practical speaking

P1: winter, windy, weekend. The other words begin with /s/ and /d/.
P2: open; students change one detail and stress its meaning, for example, I am going to COOK on SATURDAY. Accept clear intelligible speech, not imitation of a particular accent.
C1–C2: open. Check the partners agree on the same indoor activity, day and time. Example: We are going to read on Friday at four. If a student suggests an outdoor activity, remind them to follow their card's indoor instruction.

Information-gap key

L3: A learns Saturday, read, five o'clock. B learns Friday, draw, three o'clock. Keep the cards covered so students need to ask. Accept questions using full forms or contractions; gently model What time are you going to read? after the exchange.

Unit 8: reading and review keys

Reading: Maha's notebook

R1: Saturday and next week; yesterday is past. The personal plan is open.
R2: 1 To be an engineer. 2 Her brother. 3 At four o'clock.
R3: 1 F: Maha is not going to play computer games on Friday. 2 T.
R4: 1 b; 2 a.
R5: open. Example: My goal this month is to read in English. Accept an achievable goal expressed with familiar words.

Review answer key

Q1: 1 sunny; 2 winter; 3 doctor; 4 goal.
Q2: 1 am; 2 draw; 3 Are; 4 not.
Q3: 1 His father. 2 At five o'clock. 3 No, she is not. / No, she isn't. She is going to make a salad.
Q4: open. Sample: My goal is to help my family. I am going to make a salad on Friday. I am going to cook rice on Saturday.
Q5: open pair exchange. Look for one understandable plan, one relevant question and a simple reflection. Accept use of the question frames.

Formative assessment

The closed review has 11 items: four spellings, four grammar choices and three reading answers. Record results by skill, not only as a total. Accept concise reading answers; they need not be full sentences. Assess Q4 separately for message, going to structure and punctuation. A self-assessment tick is a prompt for discussion, not a proficiency certificate.

Portfolio reflection

J4 and the final next-step statement are open. Students can compare their early personal profile with their new goals poster. Ask them to identify one improved skill with an example. A realistic small step is more useful than a grand ambition. Any respectful, familiar goal is valid; do not pressure students to choose a career.

> Keep the level accessible
>
> Do not assess prediction with will, future continuous or conditionals. Students only need familiar vocabulary, am / is / are + going to + base verb, and basic questions. Accept short disconnected sentences at A1. Permit invented family details and plans.

Unit 8: writing, projects and support

Writing model answers

W1 is open: for example, cook / make rice / Saturday. W2 sample: My dream is to cook for my family. On Saturday, I am going to make rice. My father is going to help me.
W3 sample, 42 words: My name is Noor. My dream is to help animals. This week, I am going to read a book about cats. On Friday, I am going to draw an animal poster. My friend is going to help me. We can work together.

Project and presentation evidence

J1–J3 are open. Check one goal, two plans, two days or times and two useful pictures. A digital or paper poster is equally valid. Students present briefly and answer one simple question. Apply the five-category 0–2 rubric to this evidence: communication conveys the goal and plans; vocabulary names familiar actions/times; grammar uses understandable going to clauses; completion includes the four success criteria; confidence means willingness and use of support, not accent, speed or personality. Offer a quiet pair presentation if needed.

A short project model

Goal	Plan 1	Plan 2
Read in English	Read for ten minutes on Friday.	Talk about a book on Saturday.

Supporting learners

Give picture choices and rehearse one frame orally before writing. Colour-code I am / she is / we are. Let a partner read the task instructions. Provide the W2 frame on a card. Read the listening a third time during teaching if useful, recording the extra support when assessing.

Extending learners at A1

Ask for one extra familiar detail: place, helper or time. Let students ask a second simple question and answer using a sentence frame. Do not require complex reasons or long spontaneous speech. Revisit a previous portfolio page and add one small future plan using its vocabulary.
